

Astrid Soyez, auctions and light

Françoise Garnier

Law and political science studies, 6 years at the École du Louvre and 1 year of gemology... this might have made her head spin. But it is not so.

Her first collaboration with the watch expert Romain Réa in Paris and since 2 years in Geneva, has been a real eye-opener for her. This is how she got her foot in the door by collaborating with Antiquorum, where she also coordinates the annual auction sales.

She believes that watchmaking is the link between human technical genius and beauty, between a masterwork and an everyday object. Timepieces are life vehicles and witnesses of our history. And even if this craft requires a high personal commitment, she practices it with passion, thinking every day that the future belongs to people who know how to keep time.. ■

The world of auction house watch departments never stops revealing personalities worth meeting. Antiquorum has a radiant face coming out of the shadows.

Key years

2017-2018: internships at Tajan, Cornette de Saint-Cyr and Sotheby's Paris.

Since 2018: Working with watch expert Romain Réa in Paris as auction manager.

Since 2020: Employee at Antiquorum Geneva as Global Sales coordinator, Management Assistant and Auctioneer

